Heikki Taavetti Aho : Islands of Finland before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Islands of Finland:

Heikki Taavetti Aho (1895 - 1961) is viewed as a pioneer of Finnish documentary film. Aho worked with Bjorn Soldan (1902 - 1953) through their film production company Aho and Soldan (1925 - 1961) the Finnish documentary film tradition was born. Aho and Soldan was founded in 1925 in Helsinki, largely to enable a visual image of Finland as a newly born nation, and was active until 1961. Their photographic work has been published in numerous magazines over several decades and has been displayed through a number of exhibitions such as at Helsingin Taidehalli, Helsinki 1930 and 1984, Salong Strindberg, Helsinki 1930, Alvar Aalto's The Finnish Pavilion at The 1939 New York World's Fair, The Finnish Museum of Photography, Helsinki 1987, The Finnish Film Archive, Helsinki 1992 and Musee d'art Moderne et Contemporain, Strasbourg 1999. Similarly, their films are shown regularly at film festivals in Finland as well as abroad.
