Janet Renouf-Miller : Knit 1 Bike 1: A Knitting and Cycling Tour of Scotland before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Knit 1 Bike 1: A Knitting and Cycling Tour of Scotland:

Knit 1 Bike 1 is the light-hearted story of a woolly cycle journey around Scotland. Textile artist Janet Renouf-Miller cycled over 800 miles on her Brompton folding bicycle, connecting with people, telling their stories and giving workshops all over Scotland. The book is the story of her adventures and the people she met. Janet commemorated the journey not only by writing this book but by knitting and crocheting what she saw. She made woolly versions of everything from the Glenfinnan Viaduct (made famous by J K Rowling's Harry Potter books), to her bicycle, worms and a sponge cake. There are many pictures in the book, both of Janet's adventures and of the things that Janet crocheted or knitted. Full colour. 184 pages.
