Ordnance Survey : L/R Map 043 Braemar and Blair Atholl (Landranger Maps) (OS Landranger Active Map)

before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised L/R Map 043 Braemar and Blair Atholl (Landranger Maps) (OS Landranger Active Map):

Ordnance Survey Landranger Map #43 cover the heart of the Grampian Mountains in the Scottish Highlands, the area around the town of Braemar, home to a superb Highland Games and entrance to Royal Deeside from the South. At a scale of 1:50,000, this detailed multicolor map enables navigation from Glen Feshie and Blair Atholl in the west through Braemar and south to the Spital of Glenshee. Roads are relatively scarce and of uneven quality in this region of Scotland, making this map all the more important to getting around. The detail of the map is sufficient to locate the more prominent walking trails, although perhaps not for cross-country bushwacking. The map legend is helpfully listed in English, French, and German. Ordnance Survey Landranger Map # 43 Braemar and Blair Atholl is very highly recommended as a planning and navigation aid for anyone planning a walking or driving visit into the heart of the Grampian Mountains.

Perfect for day trips and short breaks, the OS Landranger Map series covers Great Britain with 204 detailed maps. Each map provides all the information you need to get to know your local area and includes places of interest, tourist information, picnic areas and camp sites, plus Rights of Way information for England and Wales.
