The Metropolis of Glasgow...By HMS Warspite Ordnance Survey Landranger Maps are ideal for planning and navigating by automobile, bicycle, or on foot across the British Isles. The 1:50,000 scale and multicolored presentation provide plenty of detail for identifying terrain and human infrastructure. Their periodic reissue means each new edition is up-to-date."Ordnance Survey Landranger Map #64: Glasgow, Motherwell, and Airdrie" covers the metropolis of Glasgow and its surrounding environs. Glasgow was once the great industrial center of Scotland but in more recent years has remade itself as a center of culture. Glasgow is also a major transportation hub. Its two airports receive flights from outside Britain as well as domestic flights. The north-south road and rail networks pass through Glasgow. Even the traveler not interested in Glasgow's urban area may need this map to avoid it. Glasgow is built around the River Clyde, once crucial to ship-building and seaborne commerce. Of more interest to the traveler are access to Loch Lomond and the Trossachs National Park, northwest of Glasgow, and to the Roman-era Antonine Wall, surviving portions of which are to be found northeast of Glasgow."Ordnance Survey Landranger Map #64" is very highly recommended to travelers planning a visit to central Scotland, including the City of Glasgow.

Perfect for day trips and short breaks, the OS Landranger Map series covers Great Britain with 204 detailed maps. Each map provides all the information you need to get to know your local area and includes places of interest, tourist information, picnic areas and camp sites, plus Rights of Way information for England and Wales.
