Herb Lester : Lisbon: Here's Why: A Guide to the Usual and Unusual before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Lisbon: Here's Why: A Guide to the Usual and Unusual:

There are about 30 attractions shown roughly on the map, with a short paragraph about each on the back. That's all. When I opened it, I thought my wife had played a joke on me. Unbelievable. It has less on it than the typical sightseeing map you see in a hotel lobby. A complete waste of money!0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great if you like interesting stuff!By LGThe other customer who has reviewed this product is obviously a moron and missed the point of this style of city map. It has nice unusual things to see around Lisbon. Lovely illustrations as well. Would definitely recommend for people who appreciate nice things

Informed by on-the-ground research, Herb Lester's handy, folded guides uncover what makes a city special - its most distinctive shops, restaurants, cafés, bars, museums and galleries, whether unmissable old favourites, exciting new arrivals or overlooked treasures. Each entry comes with its own brief description, and a basic map helps the reader get their bearings and make plans. This guide allows for ambling, for wandering and for looking around Lisbon's beautiful tiled streets. We enjoy views from rooftops, parks and gardens, take a ferry across the Tagus, explore museums and galleries, and yes, we stop to linger over food and drink too. Our 33 entries encompass the classic and contemporary: custard tarts, canned fish, brutalist architecture and a factory repurposed as shops and offices. Printed on a single sheet of 100% recycled paper, these light, portable guides are an ideal travelling companion.

About the Author Herb Lester Associates publish guides for tourists and locals: witty, pretty, curious and opinionated. We research, write, print and distribute maps and guides to the world's great cities. We seek out the well-used and much-loved, and enjoy the extraordinary as well as the everyday. Old bookshops and new coffee shops, park benches and dive bars, hat shops and haberdashers: this is the world according to Herb Lester.
