A fantastic Historical juxtaposition of London Life!By Jason MalletIt's amazing how every day London life can pass you buy in a "grey" humdrum existence of catching the tube or running late for a meeting. Dr Greens book adds vivid color with historical accounts of past lives both atrocious and wonderful. There are many surprises that mirror each twist and turn of the ancient Streets. I thoroughly enjoyed this book and have no hesitation recommend it.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Not typical tourist guide...interestingBy P. WittInteresting book. Starts off a bit narley, definitely not your sugar coated tourist travel guide, very interesting though. If you like a more realistic view of a places history you will probably find this book an interesting read. I am enjoying.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Great book if you're a fan of London and history.By Dan DelaneyWritten in an interesting way. I like how he has you in today's London and you turn a corner and you're suddenly in Medieval London.

Let time traveler Dr. Matthew Green be your guide to six extraordinary periods in London's history—the ages of Shakespeare, medieval city life, plague, coffee houses, the reign of Victoria and the Blitz. We'll turn back the clock to the time of Shakespeare and visit a savage bull and bear baiting arena on the Bankside. In medieval London, we'll circle the walls as the city lies barricaded under curfew, while spinning further forward in time we'll inhale the 'holy herb' in an early tobacco house, before peering into an open plague pit. In the 18th century, we'll navigate the streets in style with a ride on a sedan chair, and when we land in Victorian London, we'll take a tour of freak-show booths and meet the Elephant Man. You'll meet pornographers and traitors, actors and apothecaries, the mad, bad and dangerous to know, all desperate to show you the thrilling and vibrant history of the world's liveliest city.

"Matthew Green's time travelling vehicle's headlights focus on fascinating details, time after time, as it swoops around London. A must for anyone interested in London's history. His research can't be faulted." —Liza Picard, bestselling author, Elizabeth's London and Restoration London
