Kate Hodges : London in an Hour before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised London in an Hour:

Organized around the range of activities London has to offer, this book will help you find original and diverting suggestions for things to do, as well as a few places to eat and drink. It includes ways to squeeze in some culture or some exercise; find the best places to buy a birthday present or go for a quick pampering; discover outdoor spaces or quiet hideaways to escape the chaos; avoid the typical al desco lunch; make the most of your mornings; and turn a spare hour in-between a meeting or at a train station into an hour well spent. It also includes top 10 lists for those really pushed for time and comprehensive indices by location and activity type to help you find what you need, quickly.

About the AuthorKate Hodges has over 20 years of experience writing for magazines, having been a staffer on publications including The Face, Bizarre, Just Seventeen, Smash Hits and Sky, and written for the Guardian, the Sunday Express, Kerrang!, and NME. She is the cowriter of Little London.
