Jason Hawkes : London Landmarks From the Air before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised London Landmarks From the Air:

The essence of London's most famous landmarks is captured in a series of fully captioned color photographs, taken from heights of between 500 and 1500 feet. This volume follows "London From the Air" and includes long-distance studies of the landmarks in their surroundings, as well as close-ups.
