London with Kids is an easy-to-read, entertaining guide to visiting London with kids. With details on some of the must-see attractions as well as many suggestions off the beaten path, London with Kids is packed full of the essential information that every tourist-parent needs – where the baby-change facilities are, which attractions are pram friendly, which restaurants have high chairs and where to find great kids' menus. London with Kids also has a comprehensive list of the best parks and playgrounds, as well as details on transport and healthcare. Also included are five suggested days out that ensure you see all the highlights of London in a kid-friendly format. London with Kids is written by parenting author and mum AJ Sutherland. She is someone who has experienced London both as a resident and tourist, and someone who understands the challenges, joys and chaos of travelling with young children. Written by a parent, for parents, and with plenty of humor along the way, London with Kids makes experiencing London enjoyable for every parent. (A J Sutherland)
