Richard Watkins, Chris Deliso : Lonely Planet Bulgaria (Country Travel Guide) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Lonely Planet Bulgaria (Country Travel Guide):

6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. DisappointingBy Shoshana BattatAs a very old timer with Lonely Planet Guidebooks, I have observed a turn in them from "survival guides" to more general to almost vague guides. It is not clear to whom these guides are intended. This one although recently updated lacks much basic information about places, times, prices etc. As was written by a former reviewer:" If you need a guidebook to visit Bulgaria, this is not the book you should buy". We recently returned from an 8 day trek in the mountain areas covering the Rila, Pirin and Rhodopi ranges. Many of the places we visited are not mentioned at all in the guide and those that are have very limited descriptions. I recommend trying the Rough Guide. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars

I bought the book before a trip to Bulgaria and it made our trip much more interesting. I will use it again before a return visit.

Discover Bulgaria
Sleep like a monk and rise at dawn to see Rila Monastery's frescoes in the early morning rays
Say dobur den to cats lounging in the old-world side streets of Veliko Tarnovo Clamber up Belogradchik's majestic rocks and explore the defensive bunkers of the Roman Kaleto Fortress
Lay down your towel at the best Black Sea beaches for swimming, partying or relaxing
In This Guide:
Two expert authors, 80 days of in-country research, 35 detailed maps
New chapter on Bulgarian wine

Who We Are
At Lonely Planet, we see our job as inspiring and enabling travelers to connect with the world for their own benefit and for the benefit of the world at large. What We Do* We offer travelers the world's richest travel advice, informed by the collective wisdom of over 350 Lonely Planet authors living in 37 countries and fluent in 70 languages.* We are relentless in finding the special, the unique and the different for travellers wherever they are.* We update our guidebooks by visiting thousands of places in person to get the details right and tell it as it is.* We always offer the trusted filter for those who are curious, open minded and independent.* We challenge our growing community of travelers; leading debate and discussion about travel and the world.* We tell it like it is without fear or favor in service of the travelers; not clouded by any other motive.
What We Believe
We believe that travel leads to a deeper cultural understanding and compassion and therefore a better world.
