Lonely Planet, Fionn Davenport, Belinda Dixon, Catherine Le Nevez, Oda O'Carroll : Lonely Planet Ireland's Best Trips (Travel Guide) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Lonely Planet Ireland's Best Trips (Travel Guide):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Excellent resource By D. Rucker This was probably my most turned to resource in planning our trip to Ireland. It is thorough and the explanations and descriptions of places and things around the country were easy to understand. My only complaint was the maps. I like to look at the maps to plan a trip and it was hard to go from the full map at the front of the book to the individual maps of regions because there was very little overlap on the cities shown. So even though you could find a city on the "big" map it would be absent on the regionals. More overlap would have been helpful. Otherwise...a great resource!

By BoobooKind of a mish mash organizationally. Kept jumping from location to location w/o having everything for a city in one place together to find it easily. Great pics but not super helpful as a tour guide book. Sorry I paid a wasted $10 for it. Gave it away before I even left Ireland.

By Terri LowtherGreat book; the maps are very helpful. I like the way several trips are laid out so you can fit the trip to your interests and the time you have allocated to visit Ireland. There are many other helpful tips and tidbits in the book that will make your trip easier, more enjoyable and more interesting. When we leave for our trip, it will definitely be in our luggage!
