Ordnance Survey Landranger Maps are designed to help the non-accidental tourist explore the British Isles in detail. The 1:50,000 scale and multicolored presentation enable planning and navigation for automobile touring or exploring by bicycle or on foot. "Ordnance Survey Landranger Map # 28: Elgin, Dufftown, Buckie Keith" covers that portion of the Northeast Highlands of Scotland along the Moray Firth and North Sea from Burghead to Portknockie and the Spey River valley from Cragganmore through Abelour to the sea. Also covered are the old cathedral town of Elgin and Dufftown on the trailing edge of the Grampian Mountains. The terrain is for the most part gently rolling and forested. This portion of Moray is whisky country. Speyside features the distilleries for the fine Scotch of Cragganmore, Macallan, Glenfiddich, and Strathisla brands, among others. In addition to a ruined but still remarkable cathedral, Elgin features a fine woolen mill that offers tours. There are a number of castles in the region, notably including Ballindalloch, which offers tours of the castle and gardens. Ordnance Survey Landranger Map # 28 is highly recommended as a planning and navigation aid for exploring Moray.

Perfect for day trips and short breaks, the OS Landranger Map series covers Great Britain with 204 detailed maps. Each map provides all the information you need to get to know your local area and includes places of interest, tourist information, picnic areas and camp sites, plus Rights of Way information for England and Wales.
